Dr. Lehr President Under Methodist Ownership, 1898-1901

The management of the school was invested in a Board of Managers made up as follows: Dr. Henry S. Lehr, President; Simeon D. Fess, Vice-President; Warren Darst and Frederick Maglott (John G. Park withdrew from the institution and Simeon D. Fess was appointed in his stead. Prof. Park returned to the Institution as Professor of Grammar from 1907 to 1913.)

Lewis Dukes, of Findlay, was President of the first Board of Trustees; David H. Bailey, of Perrysburg, was Secretary. Albert Edwin Smith was called to the Board shortly after its organization.

The first financial agents were L. M. Allbright and J. W. Donnan. The first contribution of any magnitude was $10,000 given by Mr. Lewis Dukes. He later deeded seventy-seven acres of land in Hancock County as first payment on this pledge.

Dr. Belt's Administration, 1901-1905.

Dr. H. C. Jameson was elected President of the University in April 1901, but declined the election in May of the same year, at which time Dr. Leroy A. Belt was chosen. Professor Warren Darst withdrew in July 1900. Professor S. D. Fess withdrew May, 1902, and Professor Frederick Maglott withdrew 1909.

There were many difficult problems to be solved under the new ownership. One of the chief decisions of far reaching influence was the acceptance or rejection of Ohio Wesleyan's offer to absorb Ohio Normal in 1900. The decision was unanimous, however, to reject the proposition. The old students of this time will remember Dr. Belt and his one horse shay propelled by the old roan steed. Dr. Belt's administration was a strenuous one in many respects. As was to be expected, a radical change in ownership of any institution is met with delicate situations that ofttimes tend to create staunch friends and relentless enemies. An attempt was made to raise money by the purchase of the tri-county fair grounds with the hope of selling a goodly portion for building lots and retaining the remainder for a recreation field. This venture was not a success as most of the building lots have been reconverted into farm land. This administration brought to us the Dukes Building which has done a splendid service in housing the College of Engineering, the College of Law and the Department of Biology and Zoology. The College of Law, however, was soon compelled to seek other quarters for lack of room. It likewise gave us the Brown Building, which was used for Chapel purposes until 1913 when it was converted into a gymnasium. The basement was used as an armory until 1919 when it was converted into a modern cafeteria.

(Editor's Note: This story will be continued in the July issue.)

The campus in 1904 during Dr. Belt's administration. He added two buildings, Dukes Memorial on the extreme left and Brown auditorium on the extreme right.

History of Ohio Northern University

By Dr. Thomas J. Smull,
Executive Secretary, O. N. U.

WE fully realize the responsibility one assumes when presuming to write a history of Ohio Northern from the time of its purchase by the Central (now West) Ohio Conference of the Methodist church to the present time. The intervening years have recorded many incidents, both tragic and humorous, that only the genius of an artist could hope to picture adequately. Fully aware of our limitations and bespeaking your patient and charitable judgment of our weak effort we bring a few outstanding events to your attention.

The following excerpts are taken from resolutions recorded in the Minutes of the Central Ohio Conference:

> WHEREAS, the Ohio Normal University, situated at Ada, Ohio, an institution which for the past twenty-seven years has been under the direction of the able educator, Professor Henry S. Lehr, and which has had an increased attendance from year to year, and
>
> WHEREAS, seventy-five per cent of these students come from the bounds of the Central Ohio Conference, with a goodly number of them representing Methodist homes, and believing that the interests of these students would be conserved by the transfer of this school to the Methodist Episcopal Church, therefore
>
> RESOLVED, that we recommend the purchase of said institution and appoint the following brethren to effect the legal transfer of said property to the Central Ohio Conference, William Lawrence, L. A. Belt, and E. D. Whitlock.
> The report of the committee was approved and adopted by the Central Ohio Conference, in session in Sidney, Ohio, September 21, 1898.

The Articles of Incorporation stated, "The purpose for which the Corporation is founded is not for profit, but to promote religion, morality and education and to receive, hold and expend donations, devises, bequests, gratuities, subscriptions and funds arising from other sources for the benefit of said Corporation, ..."

The school was owned and operated prior to this time by a company of four men who were known as educational giants in the academic world of their day. We refer to Henry Solomon Lehr, Warren Darst, John G. Park and Frederick Maglott. It is also interesting to know that the College of Law within the university was the property of Simeon D. Fess.

DR. THOMAS J. SMULL.

These men realized that privately owned schools like private fortunes do not long survive but inevitably die with the geniuses who create them. The emoluments accruing from the enterprise would be a pitiably small salary for the most humble teachers of today, the entire payroll in 1901 being $10,600, yet it was obvious that Ohio Normal University, like all other similar institutions, must be profit sharing and not profit bearing; they must be a public trust and not a private possession. These men demonstrated their nobility of soul by tendering it for sale in order to perpetuate it for the thousands who had gone through its halls in the past and the uncounted thousands who would tread its campus in the future.

But we must not allow ourselves to ramble through the mazes of romance of this beloved institution, but rather shall it be our task to "pick out" a few of its outstanding historical events and present them to you chronologically.
